

Haliburton Farm 2016 Internship Posting

Applications now open!

Do you want to be immersed in a diverse program with all the businesses at Haliburton Farm? Are you interested in addressing food security in our region? Have you wondered how food production can be compatible with maintaining and restoring ecosystem health?

At Haliburton Farm you will have an opportunity to learn how small-scale certified organic growers work together to produce some of the finest produce in the region! Interns will also gain experience in growing vegetable starts, native plants, and learning about holistic nutrition.

Please send in your application using this Application Form to info@haliburtonfarm.org with attention to the Internship Program.
